

Direct Payments – a simple and secure way to shop online

Your customer must be signed up to an online banking service.

To be able to use our Direct Payments service, your customer must be signed up to an online banking service with a Nordic bank, such as Swedbank, Handelsbanken, Nordea, SEB, Sampo, OKO Bank and Aktia.

In a direct payment the customer is linked from the order/payment page to his or her bank. He then signs in to his online banking service and authorises the payment in the same way as when paying a bill online. When the customer has authorised the payment the amount is debited to his account and he is then automatically linked back to the order page. Remember that the money is debited at the time of purchase, even if there is a delay before a service or product can be delivered.

Contact your bank for more information about Direct Payments.
